Dr. Weisen Leaves for Meeting of American Missing Congress.

Special to The Times-Dispatch.
Charlottoeville, Va., November 24.
Dr. Thomas L. Watson, professor of geology at the University of Virginia and director of the Virginia Geological Survey, left Thursday night for Spokane, Wash., to attend the meeting of the American Mining Congress. In his absence Dr. J. Sharshall Grasty will be acting head of the department of geology at the university.
Dr. Watson was especially invited to attend the congress in his capacity as Virginia State Geologist. He will be one of the principal speakers and will read an exhaustive paper on The Mineral Resources of Virginia. This paper will subsequently be published and widely distributed in the United States and foreign countries.

To-day week Dr. Watson will address the graduate students in geology at Northwestern University, Evanston,

Many persons have noted the fact that.
King George has not visited any theatre this season, nor has he commanded any performance at Windsor or elaswhere. Gossip says that His Majesty has certain decided views about certain recent plays which causes him to leave them all severely alone. But King George does not care for the theatre as his father, King Edward, did, and his devotion to shooting may explain his absence from places of amusement.

The kitchens at Windsor Castie have been busy for the last three days making a vast number of Christinas puddings for home consumption, and also to be sent as presents to all members of royalty in Europe who are personal friends of the British monarch. custom of cooking these puddings and sending them to Kings, Queens, princes and princesses was always observed by Queen Victoria and King Edward. A large consignment is always sent to Queen Maud of Norway, a sister of the King, and to the Czar and Czarina-rince Arthur will take two especially large puddings to the Duke and Duchess of Connaught in Canada when he sails early in December.

The arrival of the Grand Duchess Viadimir of Russia has given an impetus to the winter season. Many of her friends returned here at the same time as she did. This coterie has already entertained her much in Venice and Paris, and in the latter city practically monopolized the large dining room of the Ritz, where parties were given every night in her honor by the Marchioness of Ripon. Mrs. Leeds. Mrs. Paget, Miss Yznaga and Miss Tilly Potter, a woman who is likely to become the "vogue" in London. Since she has been in London the grand duchess has dined with Anthony Drexel in his new house on Grosvenor Square. On this occasion Mrs. Paget and Harry Milner were the only other gueets. She also dined with Sir Arthur and Lady Paget, with Count de Monsdorff, the Austrian ambassador, at his embassy and attended a large dinner party given by Anthony Drexel on Tuesday.

on Tuesday.

Society was busy this week with weddings and charities. The most notable weddings were those of Sqlvia Grenfell, niece of Lord Desborough, and Captain Watts-Russell, at which the Countess Pauline Pappenheim was one of the bridesmaids; Noel Vanralic, Lord Howard de Walden's brother-inlaw, and Iris Graham, a niece of Sir Richard Graham, at which Prince Leonoul, of Battenburg, was best man; law, and Iris Graham, a niece of Sir Richard Graham, at which Prince Leopoul, of Battenburg, was best man; Baron de Rothschild and Miss Sebag. Monteflore, which was notable for the presentation to the bride of one of the most magnificent collections of gemsever given on such an occasion; Charles W. Short, Jr., of Boston and Cincinnati, and Countess Camilla Hoyos, notable for the fact that it was one of the very few weddings at which a titled bride has married an American; Lilah Wingfield, sister of Lord Powerscourt and Major Silve Morrison-Bellman on Thursday. This last wedding was notable for the large bridal procession. This has been a feature of this year's weddings, but Miss Wingfield probably holds the record. There were seventeen attendants, five little boys and four little girls dressed in Heppenes costumes, and eight grown bridesmalds in Greek gowns of shaded mauve chiffon with mauve tulle vells fixed with plain gold bands.

The charities organised and run by The charities organised and run by society women were too numerous to detail. (Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch)
Rome, November 23.—Unimous support of the government's policy is in darger owing to the attitude of Italy on the Abanian question. The ill feeding against Austria. Italy's ally and "hereditary enemy," is great and is making increasingly difficult a unity of policy by the two countries. A large crowd assembled before the Austrian embassy here last Saturday and shouted "Down with Austria." There would have been trouble but for the fact that extra police precautions had been taken, and the mob was soon dispersed.

The next day the government newspapers in impired editorials hastened to reassure public opinion that Italy's policy in regard to Albania was entirely independent and was not hostile to Servia. It was added that Italy recognized Servia's right to an outlet in the Adriante. Notwithstunding these statements the feeling against Austria is growing.
